Idea

In a collaboratively designed installation, rings and lamps by Karl Fritsch, as well as drawings by Robert Crotla – created especially for the exhibition – are on display.

One of Fritsch & Crotla's main concerns is to transform the exhibition space, to let formal order turn into disorder. In this sense, the claim is everything that is beyond the limited, known, clearly seen into the unrestricted, not known, unclearly "seen". Opportunities are grasped which the limited space offers.

The starting point is the longing for experience of a thinking seeing, which consciously exposes itself to the adventures of uncertainty.
